A professor at Tehran University recently said in an interview with Islamic Republic of Iran Broadcasting (IRIB) that the Jewish state employs sorcery in its conflict with the Muslim world.

The daughters of Tslafkhad [Zelophehad] had a complaint about the structure of the laws of inheritance.

What to do when authorities

- Are wrong by choice: explicitly
- Miss something; wrong by omission

How to make a G-dly appeal

From the Declaration of Independence of the United States:

[After listing 28 grievances of King George III] declares:

“We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which, would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.”

The daughters of Ts'lof-khad [Zelophehad] had a complaint about the structure of the laws of inheritance.

Parallel Prototype Problem

Daniel 1.8 Dani'el resolved that he would not defile himself with the king's food or the wine he drank.

Resolution Recourse

1. Right relationship

a. Discern the righteous intentions of the authority

Daniel 1.4 They were to be boys without physical defect, handsome in appearance, versed in all kinds of wisdom, quick to learn, discerning, and having the capacity to serve in the king's palace.

b. Seek the favor and blessing of the authority

Daughters Ts'lof-khad [right relationship]:

“Our father died in the desert. He wasn't part of the group who assembled themselves to rebel against ADONI in Korakh's group, but he died in his own sin.”

Parallel prototype problem

Dan 1.9 God caused the chief officer to be kind and sympathetic toward Dani'el;

וַיִּתֵּן הָאֱלֹהִים אֶת-דָּנִיֵּאל לְחֶסֶד וּלְרַחֲמִים לְפָנָיו

עַד הַסְּרִיסִים

Dan 1.9 CEB Now God had established faithful loyalty between Daniel and the chief official.

NKJV Now God had brought Daniel into the favor and goodwill of the chief of the eunuchs Lk 2.51-52 So he went with them to Natzaret and was obedient to them. But his mother stored up all these things in her heart. And Yeshua grew both in wisdom and in stature, gaining favor both with other people and with God.

Nekhemyah 1.4-5 The king asked me, "What is it that you want?" I prayed to the God of heaven, then said to the king, "If it pleases the king, if your servant has won your favor, send me to Y'hudah, to the city of my ancestors' tombs, so that I can rebuild it."

מְצֵא חֵן (בעיני מישהו)

matsah khi

to find favor, to please
(in someone's eyes)

2. Have the right motives for your appeal.

Bamidbar/Nu 27.4 Why should the name of our father be eliminated from his family just because he didn't have a son?

Daniel prototype: Dan 1.8 he asked the chief officer to be excused from defiling himself with the king's food or the wine he drank

3. Discern the appropriate time and circumstances to make your appeal.

Daughters of Ts'lof-khad: They stood in front of Moshe, El'azar the cohen, the leaders and the whole community at the entrance to the tent of meeting

Daniel 1.12-15 "Please! Try an experiment on your servants - for ten days have them give us only vegetables to eat and water to drink. Then see how we look, and compare us with how the boys who eat the king's food look; and deal with your servants according to what you see."

Daniel 1.12-15 He agreed to do what they had asked and gave them a ten-day test. At the end of ten days they looked better and more robust than all the boys who were eating the king's food.

Ester 5.1-4 On the third day, Ester put on her royal robes and stood in the inner courtyard of the king's palace, opposite the king's hall. The king was sitting on his royal throne in the king's hall, across from the entrance to the hall. When the king saw Ester the queen standing in the courtyard, she won his favor; so the king extended the gold scepter in his hand toward Ester.

Ester 5.1-4 Ester approached and touched the tip of the scepter. "What is it you want, Queen Ester?" the king asked her. "Whatever your request, up to half the kingdom, it will be given to you." "If it is all right with the king, "answered Ester, "let the king and Haman come today to the banquet I have prepared for him."

4. Respond correctly if your appeal is rejected.

Your response to an appeal that is rejected will reveal your true attitude about the situation. A gracious response not only will be a proper testimony; it also may prompt your authority to reconsider the appeal. Also, a right response will influence your authority to be open to your future appeals

From Daniel Pipes mailing:

Why, then, did Hamas just provoke a war with Israel? Out of nowhere, on June 11 it began launching rockets, shattering a calm in place since November 2012. The mystery of this outburst prompted David Horowitz, editor of the Times of Israel, to find that the current fighting has "no remotely credible reason" even to be taking place.

Both sides know that Israel's forces vastly out-match Hamas' in every domain – intelligence gathering, command and control, technology, firepower, domination of air space.

The Israeli Air Force has total control of the air space.

Actually, Hamas leaders are quite rational. Periodically (2006, 2008, 2012), they decide to make war on Israel knowing full well that they will lose on the military battlefield but optimistic about winning in the political arena. Israeli leaders, conversely, assume they will win militarily but fear political defeat – bad press, United Nations resolutions, and so on.

Amazingly, the world is NOT buying it this war

- United Nations Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon: "Today we face the risk of an all out escalation in Israel and Gaza with the threat of a ground offensive still palpable and preventable only if Hamas stops rocket firing."

- Egyptian security forces seized 20 rockets on their way to being smuggled into Gaza.
- Jordan's Foreign Minister Nasser Judeh demanded that Israel "stop its escalation immediately," but balanced this with calls for "the restoration of complete calm and avoidance of targeting civilians" and "the return to direct negotiations."

The BBC published an article, "#GazaUnderAttack images accurate?" about pictures claiming to show the effects of Israeli airstrikes on Gaza and found that "Some of the images are of the current situation in Gaza, but a #BBCTrending analysis has found that some date as far back as 2009 and others are from conflicts in Syria and Iraq."

In fact, the photo was taken by the AFP last month in Aleppo, Syria.

CNN's Jake Tapper asked former PLO legal advisor Diana Buttu about a tape of Hamas spokesmen encouraging civilians in Gaza to protect homes of Hamas' leaders with their bodies. When Buttu retorted by calling this a racist accusation, Tapper replied, "It's not racist, we have video ... That's not racist, it's a fact."

Israel provides 100 megawatts of electricity to Gaza on a regular basis, much of which is purchased by the Palestinian Authority (PA), which owes Israel 1.4 billion shekels (nearly half a billion dollars) for unpaid electric bills.

Several months ago, the director of the Israel Electric Corporation (IEC) called on the Israeli government to cut off the supply to the PA until it pays its debt.

Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu admitted Thursday to members of the Security Committee that harsh steps, such as cutting off the water and electricity to Gaza in response to the incessant rocket fire, are being opposed by the government's legal advisers.

Providing electricity, water and fuel to an enemy at a time of war is a move that no country in the world takes, and therefore no legal source has the right to block the state of Israel “from cutting off the supplies,” argued Rotman.

How long this favor will last, we don't know. But these are the facts that WE need to know.

PROMOTING

IEL facilitates meetings between Israeli politicians and their counterparts worldwide to promote understanding, friendship and cooperation

IEL (Israel Empowerment Lobby), is an organization supported by Knesset parliamentarians, which along with mayors, businessmen, other high officials and diplomats, promotes better understanding between Judaism and Christianity, by building broader support for Israel through special events and other shared activities. We recognize the contribution Christians are making from all around the world for the sake of the State of Israel and for the welfare of the Jewish people. We wish to bring this point of view and understanding to the attention of the Israel population at large.

Israeli messianic congregations

"Now there are an estimated 150 Jewish messianic congregations around Israel meeting in different languages.

The number of believers is estimated to be around 30,000-50,000, growing exponentially from 1948 when 12 Jews who believed in Jesus could be counted, to 1987 when there were 3,000 and 1997 when there were 5,000."
