A very brief history of Hanukkah

A very long time ago, in the year 168 BCE, the Greek-Syrians ruled the country of Judea. King Antiochus was an evil man who hated the Jews because they worshiped Adoni and obeyed His laws, while he worshiped Greek idols and lived an ungodly lifestyle.

He decided that all his subjects should worship and live the way he did. Antiochus sent his soldiers into the Judean cities and villages to burn the Jewish holy books and erect a huge statue of the Greek god, Zeus, right over the altar of burnt offering in the temple in Jerusalem. They vandalized the temple and made it unclean. He made a law that Jews were not allowed to pray in the temple or study Torah, or celebrate their holidays.

Next, Antiochus ordered the erection of heathen altars in every part of Judea and the offering of a pig, an unclean sacrifice. At Modin, west of Jerusalem, an aged priest named Matityahu refused to offer the sacrifice.

A cowardly villager then stepped forward to perform the duty. Matityahu became angry and seized a sword from a nearby soldier and killed the villager.

When the soldiers tried to stop him, he fought them off until his strong sons came to his rescue. Soon, after a terrible battle, all the King's men lay dead. One of Matityahu's sons, Yehudah or Judah, became such a fierce fighter that he became known as Judah the Maccabee. Maccabee means "hammer" in Hebrew. He became the leader of the Judean revolt and his followers became known as the Maccabees. [It's soooooo easy to compromise. Get along. Laugh at their jokes.]

After three years of fighting, Judah and the Maccabees defeated the Syrian generals in battle and entered Jerusalem, praising G-d for deliverance.

They had stood firm and prevailed and thus fulfilled the prophecy of Daniel 11:32 where he spoke of this wicked ruler.

Daniel 11.32 With smooth words he will seduce those who act wickedly against the covenant, but the people who know their God will stand strong and prevail.

[Do we face smooth words from our adversaries?]

LGBT+ rights and affirmation. Palestinian rights & genocide.

Innocent people being mercilessly slaughtered.]

Judah and the Maccabees destroyed all the Greek gods in the Temple and ground to dust the statue of Zeus. Next, they cleansed and restored the Temple and built a new altar. There is a legend that when the priests went to light the Temple menorah for the dedication, they could only find one small vase of the pure, specially made olive oil which was needed. It was only enough for one day, and it took eight days to prepare the special oil. They lit the menorah with what they had, and supposedly a miracle happened. It burned not for one day only, but for eight days! The people rejoiced with singing and dancing. A belated Sukkot.

[Hence, we light a celebratory menorah of 8 branches and one central one. And we eat oily foods, like latkes and jelly donuts.]

The central truth is a military victory against incredible odds to save the covenant people and practice.

Same war today.

[Oil part is fun, but not essential.]

Daniel 11.29-35 but the people who know their God will stand firm and prevail. Those among the people who have discernment will cause the rest of the people to understand.

Lk 21.16-19 You will be betrayed even by parents, brothers, relatives and friends; some of you they will have put to death; and everyone will hate you because of me. But not a hair of your head will be lost. By standing firm you will save your lives.

From 1882 until the present, the two feuding parties to this conflict have compiled extraordinary records of sterile continuity. The Palestinians maintain a mentality of rejectionism (no, no, and never to everything Jewish and Israeli), while Zionists stick to conciliation (accept us and we will enrich you). The two go around and around, hardly evolving or making progress. Change will only come when Israelis break with the traditional Zionist mentality and seek Israel Victory. Dr. Michael Brown: It is true that a recent poll indicated that 75 percent of Palestinians living in Gaza and the West Bank supported the actions of Hamas on October 7. It is true that the people of Gaza chose to elect Hamas as their leaders in 2006.

And it is true that an alarming number of Palestinians have no desire to see a two-state solution. Instead, they want an Israel-free Middle East, “from the river to the sea.” Yet in many ways the Palestinians are victims, and my strong support for Israel does not stop me from grieving over the suffering of the Palestinian people ...

Their leaders rejected a two-state solution under the Peel Commission in 1937, under the UN Partition Plan in 1947, and under subsequent arrangements through the decades.

And now comes the seed that leads to the current support from the left of “Palestine.” In the early 1960s, the Arab coalition was not only physically losing wars, but was considered bullies of Israel in worldwide media. They were the Goliath that kept losing to David.

[https://askdrbrown.org/article/sympathy-for-the-palestinians?vcrmeid=of1hl2X3EOOnpa7jiURxCw&vcrmiid=n8-9Ls_siEGdG64—fUPAw]

So they hired the public relations firm of Dudley-Anderson-Yutzy in New York (founded in 1909, no longer in business) to change their image in the world. George Anderson told them they needed a “victim,” a group that would be perceived as smaller and even more abused than the Israelis, and the Palestinian cause was born. At Anderson’s advice, the Palestinian Liberation Organization was established on May 28, 1964. This is the start date of the “Palestinian cause”: 1964.

Rev 21.6-8 Then He said to me, "It is done! I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. To the thirsty I will freely give from the spring of the water of life. The one who overcomes shall inherit these things, and I will be his God and he shall be My son.

Rev 21.6-8 But for the cowardly

Rev 21.6-8 But for the cowardly

deilos: cowardly, fearful refers to an excessive fear (dread) of "losing," causing someone to be fainthearted (cowardly) – hence, to fall short in following Messiah as Adon, Lord.

to the cowardly

[Courage is NOT the lack of fear, it is doing what is right in spite of fear.]

Rev 21.6-8 But for the cowardly and unbelieving and detestable and murderers and sexually immoral and sorcerers and idolaters and all liars — their lot is in the lake that burns with fire and brimstone, which is the second death."

[Remember Yeshua's interpretation of murder, includes settled anger. Courage to forgive in relationships.

Yeshua's interp of immorality is internal as well, images in the mind or on screen!]

Mt 10.34-36 "Don't suppose that I have come to bring peace to the Land. It is not peace I have come to bring, but a sword! For I have come to set a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law, so that a man's enemies will be the members of his own household. [Not all sweet and harmonious.]

2 Tim. 1.7-10 For God gave us a Spirit who produces not timidity [fear], but power, love and self-discipline. So don't be ashamed of bearing testimony to our Lord or to me, his prisoner. On the contrary, accept your share in suffering disgrace for the sake of the Good News. [Opposite of fear is power to love. Love whom, where? Love yourself, your family, your community, those you are at odds with.]

2 Tim. 1.7-10 God will give you the strength for it, since he delivered us and called us to a life of holiness as his people. It was not because of our deeds, but because of his own purpose and the grace which he gave to us who are united with the Messiah Yeshua. He did this before the beginning of time, but made it public only now through the appearing of our Deliverer, the Messiah Yeshua, who abolished death and, through the Good News, revealed life and immortality.

2 Tim 2.3-4 Suffer hardship with me, as a good soldier of Messiah Yeshua. No one serving as a soldier entangles himself in the activities of everyday life, so that he might please the one who enlisted him. [That is, suffer fearful circumstances.]

2 Tim. 2.8-9 Remember Yeshua the Messiah, who was raised from the dead, who was a descendant of David. This is the Good News I proclaim, and for which I am suffering to the point of being bound in chains — but the Word of God is not bound in chains!

1Yn 4.18-21 There is no fear in love, but perfect love drives out fear. For fear has to do with punishment, and the one who fears has not been made perfect in love. We love, because He first loved us. If anyone says, “I love God,”
*[Not absence of fear, but overcomes by decision of love.
Yeshua based, empowered loving fearlessness.]*

1Yn 4.18-21 and hates his brother, he is a liar. For the one who does not love his brother, whom he has seen, cannot love God, whom he has not seen. And this commandment we have from Him: that the one who loves God should also love his brother.
[Here is the real application. I am mostly talking about big events: city central, universities, war on another continent. But here is where it hits home. Fear and love. Deal with issues at home, family, congregants, friends. Then we have inner resource to face the global enemies.]

Yeshayahu 41.9-11 I have taken you from the ends of the earth, summoned you from its most distant parts and said to you, ‘You are my servant’ — I have chosen you, not rejected you. Don’t be afraid, for I am with you; don’t be distressed, for I am your God. I give you strength, I give you help, I support you with my victorious right hand. All those who were angry with you will be disgraced, put to shame; those who fought against you will be destroyed, brought to nothing.

T’hilim / Ps 27.3-5 If an army encamps against me, my heart will not fear; if war breaks out against me, even then I will keep trusting. Just one thing have I asked of Adoni; only this will I seek: to live in the house of Adonai all the days of my life, to see the beauty of Adoni and visit in his temple. For he will conceal me in his shelter on the day of trouble, he will hide me in the folds of his tent, he will set me high on a rock.

Lk 21.7-11 And they questioned Him, saying, “Teacher, so when will these things happen? What will be the sign that these things are about to take place?”...When you hear of wars and chaos, do not be terrorized. For these things need to happen first, but the end will not come at once.” Then He continued telling them, “Nation will rise up against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be great earthquakes along with famines and epidemics in various places, and there will be terrors along with great signs from heaven.

Isaiah 43:1-5 But now, this is what Adoni says, He who is your Creator, Jacob, and He who formed you, Israel: “Do not fear, for I have redeemed you. I have called you by name; you are Mine! When you pass through the waters, I will be with you, and through the rivers, they will not overflow you. When you walk through the fire, you will not be scorched, nor will the flame burn you. For I am Adoni your God, the Holy One of Israel, your Savior. I have given Egypt as your ransom, Cush and Seba in exchange for you. Since you are precious in My sight, since you are honored and I love you, I will give other people in your place and other nations in exchange for your life. Do not fear, for I am with you. I will bring your offspring from the east, and gather you from the west.

Surprising to many, God lays out a hierarchy of priorities here: He sees the ransoming of Jewish captives as of a higher priority in a crisis situation than hostages from other nations – whether Egypt, Cush (Ethiopia) or Seba (Yemen). And the Scriptures teach that this divine ‘hostage rescue protocol’ is based on His covenant love for the Jewish people. This applies not only to hostage rescue, but also to YHVH’s international relations and priorities as well.

Psalm 86:17 “Give me a sign of your goodness, that my enemies may see it and be put to shame, for you, Adoni, have helped me and comforted me.”

Rachel Edri and her husband have meet with a slew of celebrities and international officials including the British Foreign Secretary and U.S. president.

Rachel Edri was held hostage for 17 hours by five Hamas terrorists she described as “rottweilers.” She lived to tell the tale and much of it had to do with her life-long passion for baking and hosting. “People get cranky and irrational when they are hungry, so I kept offering them food.

One of them told me, ‘You remind me of my mother...’ ‘Yes!’ I answered him, ‘I am just like your mother and I’m going to take care of you!’” I gave them some special cookies I had made for the holidays. They asked me to eat my food first to prove it wasn’t poisoned. When they finally ate, they calmed down. They loved the cookies. “One of the guys was really evil. He kept saying he was a martyr. But another one was wounded so I bandaged him.

I tried to buy time until we could be rescued so kept up conversation. ‘Tell me,’ I asked them, ‘Besides being martyrs, what else do you do? It’s a pity that we are constantly fighting. Let’s live in peace...’“I sang them songs from an Egyptian singer and they sang me songs of an Israeli singer and just for a moment I forgot the dire situation I was in. “Whenever I noticed them getting cranky, I offered them more food, more tea—more cookies.

“At some point they asked me where my kids were (because they had information about all of our families before the attack). I told them they were in America. In reality though, they were all nearby as we had come together to celebrate my husband’s birthday that weekend. One of my sons who is in the police force became the principal negotiator with the terrorists.

Through the window he signaled to me not to show that we know each other.” After 20 hours miraculously, a SWAT team rushed through a back window and killed all five terrorists with no injury to the couple. A very emotional Rachel was filmed in her first moments of rescue running into her son’s arms.

She is now taking time to recover from her brush with death so she isn’t getting on the internet or watching the news. This is the main reason she doesn’t realize what a legend she has become in Israel—and how many people would like the recipe to her holiday cookies.

Brian Holmes, our Conceal Carry instructor, and a former SWAT team member, said that they are trained for tunnel warfare, and could liberate the hostages.

Daniel Pipes: No matter how dysfunctional, the same attitudes and reflexes reappear ad nauseum: Palestinian rejectionism and Israeli conciliation. [fear world opinion]

Immediately after Oct. 7, it seemed that Israelis had broken with conciliation; now we see that was not the case, at least among the politicians and the security establishment.

[Israel gave the Temple Mount away to the Waqf in 1967 in a fit of conciliation]

Daniel Pipes: Where does one start?

1. Benjamin Netanyahu made his name as a counterterrorism specialist who repeatedly insisted that one does not negotiate with terrorists.
 2. Israel has a very painful history of releasing security prisoners who then went on to wreak destruction on it; Yahya Sinwar, a leader behind Oct. 7 is just the latest example.
 3. Israel passed a law in 2014 forbidding exactly this sort of exchange; how is this legal?
- [Yaha Sinwar had surgery on a brain tumor in an Israeli hospital. He owes his life and health to Israel.]*

L'Informale: How will Israel's war against Hamas end: a failure, a half-failure, or victory?

DP: A half failure looks most likely. Perhaps popular dissatisfaction with the war against Hamas will then lead to an anger that brings on a change that ends the historic Israeli mentality of conciliation.

One cannot fight a war if the families of hostages sit in the war room and have a large role in determining strategy.

What opposition do you face? What will be the price for us to maintain worship. How are we dedicated to the living God?]

Gary Bauer on James Dobson Family Talk, Nov 29-30

“The 1960s had a lot of this stuff we're dealing with, but it was a counterculture. It was challenging the prevalent culture in America. Now it is the culture of America. We're the counterculture. So it's not really the 1960s.

“It's a lot closer to the 1850s, quite frankly. In the 1850s, we had one difference of opinion that could not be reconciled, could not be compromised. Either one man could own another man or one man could never own another man. What's the middle ground there?

There had to be a great war. 600,000 people died to prove that no man is born with a saddle on his back. Another man born with spurs to ride him. Well, I can list 10 different things of which there are irreconcilable differences today.

“What we're seeing in the streets of America, this hundreds of thousands of people chanting gas to Jews, death to the Jews. There's never been anything like this in the history of America. Oh, look, there's been many, many years, many decades when a Jew couldn't get into certain country clubs. Might not be able to get into every college.

“Did you hear the phone call that one of the men that carried out the massacre made? Our state Department in Pentagon and our president are going to microphones and saying, well, as soon as this trouble is over with, the only long-term solution is two states living side by side in peace. This is insanity.

“We're being buried in a blizzard of lies and our children more so than anybody else, lies like there is no God, that America was never great, that our founders were evil, that your son or daughter is trapped in the wrong body.

“Revelations 20:8 helpfully lists which people it will be that will be thrown into the lake of brimstone and fire to die a second death, and most of the people on the list won't surprise you. The polluted, murderers, fornicators, sorcerers, idolaters, liars that I didn't mention. The first group listed cowards. That's the first group that will go into the burning lake, cowards.

“They intend to destroy you. They will isolate and crush you. They will dehumanize you. They are already doing that with the words they use to describe us.

“They're already putting us in jail. There are grandmothers and grandfathers that didn't push any policemen on January 6th. People in their sixties and seventies in some cases on videotape being welcomed into the Capitol building.

“They have been put on trial. They've been found guilty and they have been given sentences worse than carjackers and drug pushers yet in Washington, D.C. Do you think that's because they thought those grandmas and granddads were a threat to the republic?

“There's a federal law that prohibits demonstrations outside the homes of federal judges. The Biden Administration's Justice Department doesn't enforce that law. They're too busy putting grandmothers in the DC jail. What message is that sending?

“A few weeks ago, we observed the 22nd anniversary of the attack on 9/11. The flight that took off from Newark, New Jersey, was United Airlines flight 93. The passengers on that flight found themselves in the middle of a nightmare.

“The plane had been hijacked. Several of the stewardesses had their throats cut. The pilot and copilot were dead. The passengers gathered in the back of the plane to talk about what do we do? By the way, there was a disagreement. Some said, "You know what? We need to get back in our seats. The plane's going to land.

“There'll be negotiations. [fearful compliance!] That's the best chance we've got." Other passengers said, ‘No, no, no. There's something else going on here. We need to fight back.’ You have any idea of what they did, these Americans who disagreed on the morning that our enemies meant to take down our constitutional republic?

“They voted. ‘Everybody in favor of fighting back, raise your hand. Everybody who thinks we ought to take our seats, raise your hand.’ The ones that wanted to fight back won the vote. Now, a lot of these passengers wanted to make a last phone call home. They called mothers and fathers, children, parents simply to say, one more time, I love you. Don't forget me. Tell the children every day what they meant to me.

“One of the men on the plane that made one of those calls was a guy, you'll recognize the name Todd Beamer, a Christian man, a graduate of Wheaton, as fate would have it, when he made his phone call home, the call was redirected by the federal government to the GTE headquarters in Chicago.

“They were in charge of the phone system on the plane, and our government wanted to hear from these calls as much information as they could get about what was happening on the plane. And so Todd Beamer didn't get to tell his wife again that he loved her. He was talking to a woman named Lisa Jefferson who worked for GTE, and he extracted from her a promise that she would call his wife and tell her about the phone call.

“Lisa Jefferson and Todd Beamer talked for 13 minutes. During that time, and it's not clear how it happened, they started saying the Lord's Prayer together. Lisa Jefferson said she could hear other passengers joining in, deliver us from evil. Then a little later they recited together the 23rd Psalm. Though I walked through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil.

“Shortly after that, Lisa Jefferson said I could tell that Todd was not talking to me anymore. I could hear other people's voices and I heard him say, ‘Are you ready? Are you ready to go?’

“And then the phrase that became iconic, let's roll, as he led the passengers running down the aisle into the teeth of men armed with box cutters. You can hear on the recording the brutal battle that ensues, the screams, the crashing plates and carts and yells. You can even hear at the beginning, one of the hijackers saying to his fellow murderers, they're coming.

“Your fellow citizens broke into the cockpit. The struggle ensued. Nobody could get control of the plane. Witnesses on the ground said they saw it beginning to fly erratically and then go into a dive and it crashed into the ground. Everybody on board dead. Did God not hear that phone call? Did He not hear the prayers? Of course, he heard them and he answered them. You see, the enemy that day meant for us to endure even more suffering than we did.

“That plane was on the way either to the Capitol or the White House or maybe a nuclear power plant. The experts differ, but the disaster would've been even larger than it was. And so God gave those passengers the strength to understand the time it was. They voted, they prayed and then they fought because that was the only option left. By doing so, they saved countless Americans in our country.

“I believe that if we will all do that and with some grace from God and strength from God and some protection from God, that five years from now and 50 years from now and 100 years from now or until our Savior returns that the star of David will continue to fly over Jerusalem, the city of the free undivided nation of Israel, and that the stars and stripes will continue to fly over Washington, D.C., the capital of the free and undivided people of the United States of America.”
