AI selected Dad Jokes

To celebrate Father's Day, we asked ChatGPT: 'What are the ultimate dad jokes?'

Within seconds, the AI bot came up with a list of 20 jokes, writing: 'Here are some of the best dad jokes that are sure to get a laugh (or a groan).'

Topping the list is 'Why don't skeletons fight each other?

ISRAEL AT THE TIME OF JESUS

Yn 4.27-34 His talmidim arrived. They were amazed that he was talking with a woman; but none of them said, “What do you want?” or, “Why are you talking with her?” | So the woman left her water-jar, went back to the town and said to the people there, Yn 4.27-34 “Come, see a man who told me everything I’ve ever done. Could it be that this is the Messiah?” They left the town and began coming toward him.

Yn 4.27-34 Meanwhile, the talmidim were urging Yeshua, “Rabbi, eat something.” But he answered, “I have food to eat that you don’t know about.” At this, the talmidim asked one another, “Could someone have brought him food?”

Yn 4.35-38 Yeshua said to them, “My food is to do what the one who sent me wants and to bring his work to completion. Don’t you say, ‘Four more months, and then comes the harvest’?”

A. Internal improbability of harvest

Yn 11.20-25 Among those who went up to worship at the festival were some Greek-speaking Jews. They approached Philip, the one from Beit-Tzaidah in the Galil, with a request. “Sir,” they said, “we would like to see Yeshua.” Philip came and told Andrew; then Andrew and Philip went and told Yeshua.

Yn 11.20-25 Yeshua gave them this answer: “The time has come for the Son of Man to be glorified. Yes, indeed! I tell you that unless a grain of wheat that falls to the ground dies, it stays just a grain;

Yn 11.20-25 but if it dies, it produces a big harvest. He who loves his life loses it, but he who hates his life in this world will keep it safe right on into eternal life!

Phil 3.10-11 Yes, I gave it all up in order to know him, that is, to know the power of his resurrection and the fellowship of his sufferings as I am being conformed to his death, so that somehow I might arrive at being resurrected from the dead.

Fruitfulness by death to self.

Yn 15.1-2 “I am the real vine, and my Father is the gardener. Every branch which is part of me but fails to bear fruit, he cuts off; and every branch that does bear fruit, he prunes, so that it may bear more fruit.

ONLY ONE PERCENT OF CHURCHES ARE DOING THIS

A recent "Church Answers" poll by Thom Rainer found that only one percent of churches have an ongoing evangelism effort. This comports with their ongoing longitudinal study (since 1996) which shows that the lowest "church health score" across denominations is in the category of evangelism. The effect of this lack of evangelism effort also shows up on the "Know

Your Church" surveys with responses from tens of thousands of church members from various denominations. The data from the last five years reveal a shocking lack of new believers in these churches. Those reporting that they have been a Christian for less than one year make up only 0.6% of those surveyed, with 94.3% reporting being a Christian for eleven or more years. The proposition is that "creating a culture of ongoing evangelism is the best way to regain church health."

B. Recruitment improbability of harvest

Lk 10.2-3 He said to them, “To be sure, there is a large harvest. But there are few workers. Therefore, plead with the Lord of the Harvest that he speed workers out to gather in his harvest. Get going now, but pay attention! I am sending you out like lambs among wolves.

C. External improbability of harvest among Jewish people and the Nations harvest.

Jews and those that align with them
are deeply hated:

Keeping in mind that Israel did not mount a major military offensive into Gaza for three weeks after the October 7 invasion, how is it that by October 8, Harvard University student organizations had already published their manifesto favoring the Palestinians and blaming Israel for the invasion, to be followed quickly thereafter by organizations on other major US universities?

The volcano of anti-Semitism that has been lying dormant ever since the Holocaust in the West has now erupted, spewing its lava throughout the world. Though not exclusively the purview of Muslims, clearly the large amount of Islamic immigration to Europe and the West has served as a detonator for this explosion.

Our nation is in or near financial ruin and unsustainability:

The U.S. Congressional Budget Office released new estimates this week that the federal deficit this year will be nearly $2 trillion, more than double the deficits just five years ago. “Over the past eight months of the fiscal year, we've spent more on interest payments on the debt than we have on national defense. "We are already spending more on interest than we do on all federal spending for children, and we will see interest grow larger than Medicare spending this year."

So many major spiritual leaders have failed morally, ethically.
Does your heart ache for the honor of Yeshua and the kingdom?
That is why ethical considerations are SO important.

There is a culture of death.

Hoshea 11.8-9 Efrayim, how can I give you up, or surrender you, Isra'el? How could I treat you like Admah or make you like Tzvoyim? My heart recoils at the idea, as compassion warms within me.

Hoshea 11.8-9 I will not give vent to the fierceness of my rage, I will not return to destroy Efrayim; for I am God, not a human being, the Holy One among you; so I will not come in fury.

"Perestroika" (restructuring) and "glasnost" (openness) were Mikhail Gorbachev's watchwords for the renovation of the Soviet body politic and society that he pursued as general secretary of the Communist Party from 1985 until 1991.

THE PALESTINIAN-ISRAELI CONFLICT WILL COME TO AN ACCEPTABLE CONCLUSION ONLY WITH A PALESTINIAN SENSE OF DEFEAT.

A leading historian applies his deep understanding of the Middle East to the Palestinian-Israeli conflict—the most intractable, emotive clash of the past century.

Daniel Pipes argues that this long struggle pits two unique and doomed mentalities that exist outside of normal politics against each other, making it so difficult to comprehend.

One mentality consists of rejectionism, or the Palestinians' negation of Jews, Judaism, Zionism, and Israel. Rejectionism accounts for their enduring goal of genocide, their refusal to take yes for an answer, their unwillingness to seek improved living circumstances, and their determination to defend the Jewish state.

The other mentality consists of assimilation, or the Zionist's attempt to win Palestinian acceptance not by defeating their enemy, but by enriching and placating it. Pipes argues against this anomalous Zionist approach, advocating instead the traditional method of ending a war—through victory: Palestinians give up, Israel wins.

In a brilliant essay that brings surprisingly fresh insights and original policy recommendations to a well-worn topic, Pipes draws lessons from past "peace process" failures, delves into the universal nature of defeat and victory, and offers practical advice on how Israel can win, through minimal violence and maximal messaging.

Both sides need an Israel Victory to break with the static pull of outdated mentalities. For Israel, it means acceptance, especially among Muslims and on the global Left. For the Palestinians, Israel Victory means liberation from a destructive obsession, enabling them finally to build a polity, economy, society, and culture worthy of their skills and ambitions.

DANIEL PIPES

WICKED SON

ISRAEL VICTORY

HOW ZIONISTS WIN ACCEPTANCE AND
PALESTINIANS GET LIBERATED

DANIEL PIPES

The remedy lies, I think, in the Israelis understanding their own mistake and adopting a new policy: not one of conciliation, appeasement, enrichment, placation, but of determining to cause the Palestinians to understand that they are weak and they are defeated.

In this case, that center of gravity lies not in the leadership, the militia, the economy, the land, or in religious sanctities, but in hope: the hope to destroy Israel and replace it with Palestine. Accordingly, Israel's goal must be to extinguish that hope and replace it with hopelessness
