Many of you have hear of my intense dissatisfaction with the current Hamas ceasefire: For each female civilian hostage released, the deal stipulates that Israel will free 30 Palestinian prisoners, while 50 prisoners are to be released for each female IDF soldier. But here is a very workable idea:

Exchange each hostage for 100 Pro-Hamas US
students.

Exchange each hostage for

Good for Israel, good for USA,
good for Hamas,

Newly liberated prisoners at Auschwitz, 1945

On 27 January 1945, Auschwitz — a Nazi concentration camp and extermination camp in occupied Poland where more than a million people were murdered — was liberated by the Soviet Red Army. Most of the prisoners had been forced onto a death march, about 7,000 had been left behind.

The majority of those left behind were middle-aged adults or children younger than 15. Red Army soldiers also found 600 corpses, 370,000 men's suits, 837,000 articles of women's clothing, and 7.7 tons of human hair.

Red Army general Vasily Petrenko, commander of the 107th Infantry Division, remarked, “I who saw people dying every day was shocked by the Nazis’ indescribable hatred toward the inmates who had turned into living skeletons.

The battle hardened Soviet soldiers attempted to help the survivors and were shocked at the scale of Nazi crimes. The date is now recognized as International Holocaust Remembrance Day.

The anniversary of the date of the liberation, Jan. 27, 1945, is recognized by the United Nations and the European Union as International Holocaust Remembrance Day.

- They were in the midst of Nazi force labor camps
- Tubingen Hospital had specimens from Mengele's work

- Tubingen is the birthplace of murderers like Martin Sandberger, who are responsible for death of about 600,000 European Jews.

- Many of SS leaders studied at the University of Tübingen and then became leaders of Einsatzgruppen in Eastern Europe and lived on after 1945, largely without any consequences.

- Through various institutes whose research “scientifically” substantiated the ideology of the National Socialists, Tübingen had a decisive influence in the German Reich.

Jobst organized a repentance march through the location of the labor camps. He called it the March of Life. What began in 2007 with a one-time commemoration and reconciliation march has grown into a worldwide movement that motivates tens of thousands of people to take to the streets against antisemitism today and to stand with Israel. The March of Life has changed the lives of many Holocaust survivors and their families forever.

A display shows how long it took for society to reach a general recognition of the Holocaust. Nevertheless, family history was overlooked, and although antisemitic and racist prejudices were no longer expressed publicly, they continued to simmer below the surface. The exhibition seeks to encourage visitors to break this silence within their own families.

Together with descendants of German Wehrmacht, police and SS members, they organize memorial and reconciliation marches at Holocaust sites in Europe and around the world, starting in 2007.

The core and distinguishing feature of the March of Life movement from other commemorative events is the willingness of participants to work through their own family history in relation to involvement in National Socialism , sometimes through extensive research , and to take responsibility for it as far as they are able.

From the Swastika to the Star of David – TV report on the March of Life

Shortly before the end of 2024, the renowned Israeli journalist Dov Gil-Har visited the TOS Community and Conference Center in Tübingen, where the March of Life is based.

As part of the German premiere of the musical "Exodus 1947 - A Ship Writes History", he interviewed the young actors of the musical, the international director Heinz Reuss and the founder and president of the March of Life movement Jobst Bittner.

The interviews resulted in a 15-minute report that was broadcast on January 6th at prime time in the evening news on the Israeli Channel 11.

" From the Swastika to the Star of David - How a Nazi town became Israel's biggest supporter"

What led a community of Nazi descendants in a small German town to take responsibility for the actions of their ancestors?

The community from which the murderers of seven hundred thousand Jews came decided to investigate the crimes of that generation and dedicate its activities to the Jewish people - and those abducted.

5. Our Calling

Nekhemyah 9.1-3 Now on the twenty-fourth day of this same month, Bnei-Yisrael gathered together, fasting and wearing sackcloth and putting dust on their heads. The offspring of Israel separated themselves from all foreigners, standing and confessing their sins and the iniquities of their fathers.

Nekhemyah 9.1-3 They stood in their place and read in the scroll of the Torah of Adonai their God for a quarter of the day; and for another quarter they were confessing and prostrating themselves before Adonai their God.

Daniel 9.15-17 “Now, ADONI our God, who brought your people out of the land of Egypt with a strong hand, thereby winning renown for yourself, as is the case today — we sinned, we acted wickedly. ADONI, in keeping with all your justice, please allow your anger and fury to be turned away from your city Yerushalayim, your holy mountain;

Daniel 9.15-17 because it is due to our sins and the wrongdoings of our ancestors that Yerushalayim and your people have become objects of scorn among everyone around us.

Daniel 9.15-17 Therefore, our God, listen to the prayer and pleadings of your servant; and cause your face to shine on your desolated sanctuary, for your own sake.

Ezra 9.6-7 “My God, I am ashamed. I blush to lift my face to you, my God! For our sins tower over our heads; our guilt reaches up to heaven. Since the times of our ancestors, we have been deeply guilty;

Ezra 9.6-7 and because of our sins,
we, our kings and our cohanim have been handed over to the kings of the lands, to the sword, to exile, to pillage and to disgrace, as is the case today

T'hillim Ps 51.3-9 God, in your grace, have mercy on me; in your great compassion, blot out my crimes.
Wash me completely from my guilt, and cleanse me from my sin.
For I know my crimes, my sin confronts me all the time. Against you, you only,

T'hillim Ps 51.3-9 have I sinned and done what is evil from your perspective; so that you are right in accusing me and justified in passing sentence. True, I was born guilty, was a sinner from the moment my mother conceived me. Still, you want truth in the inner person;

T'hillim Ps 51.3-9 so make me know wisdom in my inmost heart.

Sprinkle me with hyssop, and I will be clean; wash me, and I will be whiter than snow.

Yeshayahu Is 57.15 For thus says the High, Exalted One who lives forever, whose name is Holy: “I live in the high and holy place but also with the broken and humble, in order to revive the spirit of the humble and revive the hearts of the broken ones.

Phil 2.5-8 Have this attitude in yourselves, which also was in Messiah Yeshua, Who, though existing in the form of God, did not consider being equal to God a thing to be grasped. But He emptied Himself—

Phil 2.5-8 taking on the form of a slave, becoming the likeness of men and being found in appearance as a man. He humbled Himself—becoming obedient to the point of death, even death on a cross.

This is the way we seek the favor of G-d and man.

Jan. 15, 2025 I attended an interview with author Lee Yaron interviewed by Meta Meltzer at the Jewish Community Center.

Lee Yaron

Meta Meltzer

She wrote a compiled bio of Oct 7 victims: including left-wing kibbutzniks, Burning Man-esque partiers, radical right-wingers, Bedouins, Israeli Arabs, Thai and Nepalese guest workers, peace activists, and elderly Holocaust survivors.

She realized that this wasn't an Israeli story, but an ongoing part of the Jewish story from the time of Avraham.

Is there a safe place in the world for Jews?

Yaron noted that there are two forms of anti-Semitism.

1. Megaphone: BDS, from an ideology.
2. Whisper: after Jan. 2024 EVERY publisher cancelled Israeli authors; from FEAR

Stockade and Tower

Part of the curse on Israel in exile is Viyikra Lev 26.36-37 “As for those who remain, I will bring weakness into their hearts in the lands of their enemies, so that the sound of a driven leaf will put them to flight, and they will flee as one flees from the sword and fall,

Viyikra Lev 26.36-37 even when no one is pursuing. They will stumble over one another, as if before the sword, when no one pursues, and you will have no strength to stand before your enemies.

Tower and Stockade

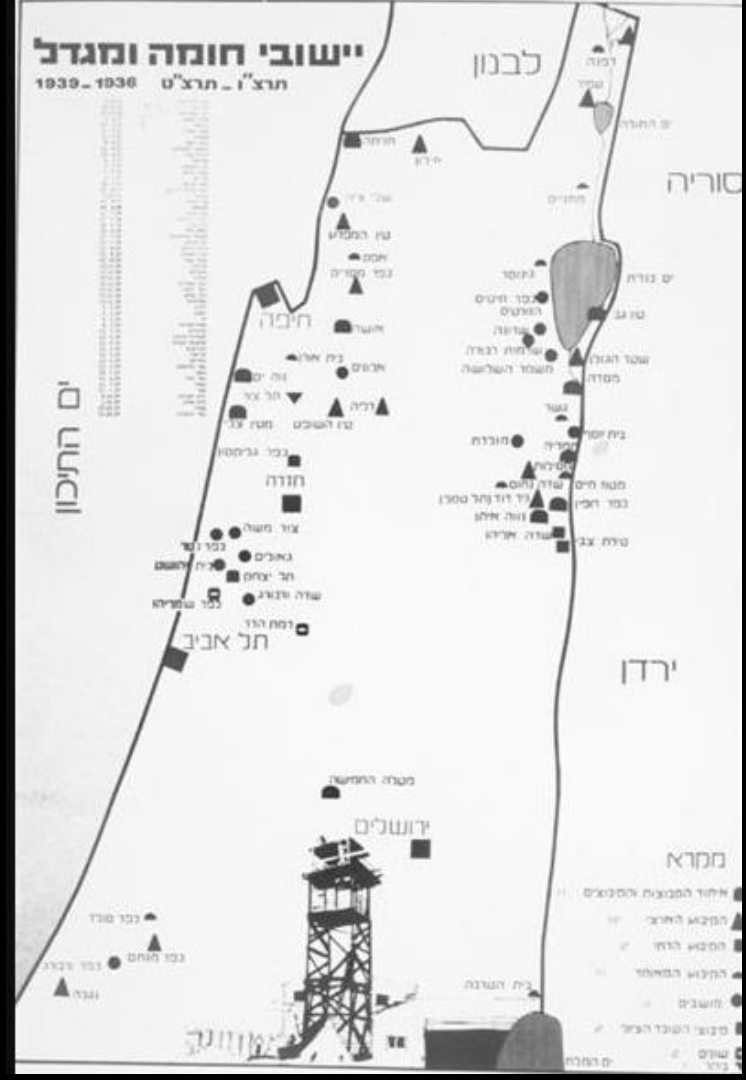

חֹמֶה וּמִגְדָּל, lit. 'wall and tower')

was a settlement method used by Zionist settlers in Mandatory Palestine.

Map of "Stockade and Tower" settlements.

Orde Wingate was a Plymouth Brethren revivalist Christian. He embraced the 1917 British Balfour Declaration which promised the Jewish people a national homeland.

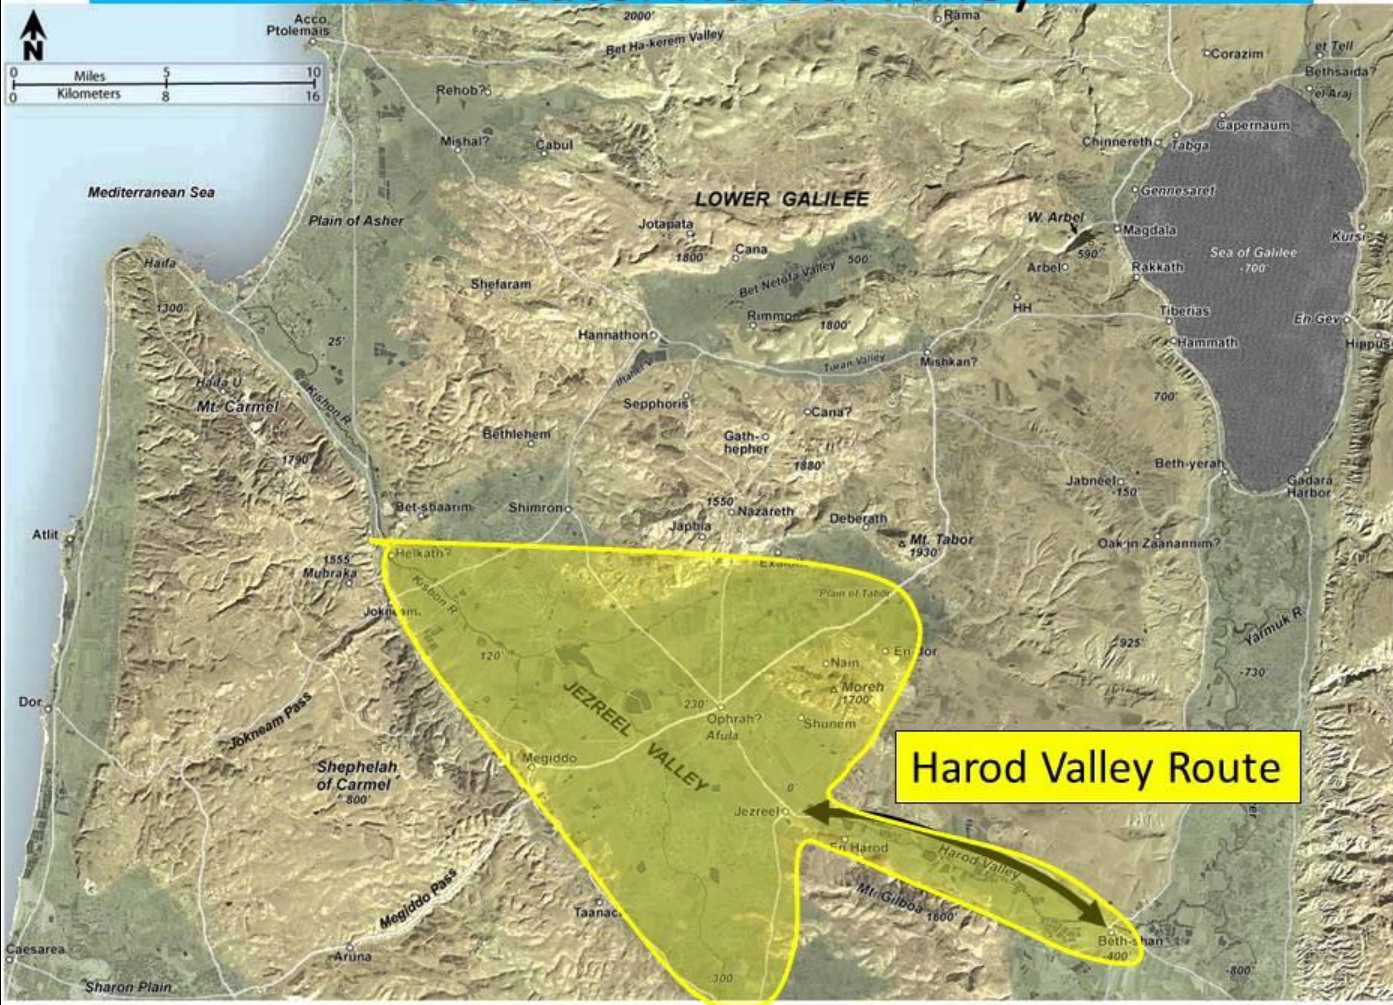

MAJOR-GENERAL O. C. WINGATE.

In 1936 he was stationed in then British Mandatory Palestine and was puzzled by his fellow Brits in the land who were now overtly anti-Jewish. Deployed to British intelligence, he shut himself away in a hotel room in Haifa for months, trying to work things out.

He studied the origins of the Jewish-Arab conflict, the Hebrew Bible and also Hebrew – which within a few years he would be speaking fluently. He came out of the hotel room an undying Zionist convinced that the times he was living in were of Biblical proportion and God was about to act: and Wingate, was here to be part of that plan.

At the time Arab gangs were murdering defenseless farmers and families on kibbutzim in the Jezreel valley. The British refused to get involved so as not to jeopardize the flow of Arab oil running through their pipeline in the heart of the Jezreel valley.

East Gate: Harod Valley

1-4 Regional Map: Jezreel Valley and Lower Galilee

Formally, he was charged by the British to protect the pipeline. In setting up the Special Night Squads of Jewish Fighters Wingate believed he had finally discovered why God had put him on earth.

He used the Israelite battles of the Bible as a blueprint for success: but not just any battle. He turned to the battle between Gideon and the Midianites which took place in the exact same Jezreel Valley, and studied their art of war.

Seeing himself as a Gideon, he was commanding a small group of soldiers to defeat the Arab “Midianites,”

Wingate trained the small groups of lightly equipped men to move silently under the cover of darkness, gather intelligence and attack an enemy where the enemy least expected it – in their own backyard.

There had not been a Jewish military operation like this in over two thousand years. The Special Night Squads succeeded all expectations. Attack was the form of defense. Sabotage ceased, the pipeline was kept safe and the Arab marauders were defeated.

“Orde Wingate will be forever remembered for laying the foundation of the first Jewish army in two thousand years”

Israel's first Prime Minister David Ben Gurion famously became known simply as HaZaken, "the old man." הזקן

Baron Edmond de Rothschild, a philanthropist, gave millions of his own money to help the 19th century struggling Jewish community and was accordingly bestowed the title, HaNadiv HaYadua, “the generous one.”

הנדיב הידוע

Orde Wingate was also given a name. In Hebrew, he is affectionally known as HaYadid, or simply, “the friend.” ידיד
